1. Boilerplate ("About TJF")

Short (about 40 words)

The Jopetnah Foundation (TJF) is a nonprofit initiative being established in Uganda. It brings education, health, livelihoods and environmental care together, because families do not face one problem at a time. Its slogan is "Building whole communities, one life at a time."

Standard (about 100 words)

The Jopetnah Foundation (TJF) is a nonprofit initiative being established in Uganda and is in the final stages of legal registration as a Company Limited by Guarantee and NGO. It is developing an integrated, family-centred approach built on four pillars: Education & Youth Development, Health & Wellbeing, Poverty Alleviation & Livelihoods, and Environment & Community Development. Its first project, Read to Lead, plans two community centres with libraries in Pakele (Adjumani District) and Teopok (Omoro District), serving about 1,000 children and adults. Land has been acquired at both sites. TJF is led by its founder and Executive Director, Okello Carlos Torach. Online donations are not active.

4. Approved quotations

Quotes below are from the founder's published messages. Please quote them exactly and tell us where they appear.

1. "A community is not truly thriving when a few are doing well while others are left behind. We build a better future when every life is valued, every family has hope, and every person has an opportunity to rise." Okello Carlos Torach, Founder and Executive Director.
2. "I founded The Jopetnah Foundation because I learned how quickly financial hardship can disrupt lives, and how much difference practical support and opportunity can make." Okello Carlos Torach.
3. "I will not promise what we have not yet earned." Okello Carlos Torach, in TJF-The Next Page, Volume 1, Edition 1.

For any new quotation, send the context and wait for the Executive Director's approval.

5. Likely questions and honest answers

Question	Answer
Is TJF registered?	TJF is in the final stages of registration as a Company Limited by Guarantee and NGO in Uganda. We will publish the registration number when it is issued.
What has TJF done so far?	It has set out its vision, published its core policies, acquired land at both centre sites and published its first newsletter. It has not yet started delivering programmes.
Who will the libraries serve?	About 1,000 children and adults in all, roughly 500 at each centre, if the plans proceed.
How will communities be involved?	Through consultation in local languages once registration is complete, before design decisions are made.
How is it funded?	TJF is not yet accepting online donations. Funding conversations with partners are held privately and will be reported once agreed.
Is TJF only in Uganda?	Yes. Work begins in Uganda. TJF hopes, in time, to share what it learns more widely across East Africa and the continent. This is a hope, not a plan.

Question	Answer
Is TJF connected to Jopetnah International Limited?	The founder is also Managing Director of that company. TJF is a separate and independent organisation.
Can we photograph or visit a site?	Not yet. Please contact us; any visit or photograph follows our photography and safeguarding policies, with community and guardian consent.
Can I donate?	Not yet: online donations are not active. Please do not respond to any payment request that does not come from the official channels on the website.
